Monroe Gevedon of Grassy Dies at 86; Aunt Jeston, 105, Takes News 'Calm'

Funeral Is Friday For Morgan Man Of Many Talents

James Monroe Gevedon, a man of many accomplishments and one of Morgan county's grand old men, died at his home at Grassy Creek Tuesday night.

He lived to the ripe old age of 86. But his mother, Aunt Jeston, outlived him. She had observed her 105th birthday last Dec. 23. Aunt Jeston was asleep in an adjoining room when the end came at about 10:30 p.m. and was not told of her son's passing until she awoke about 3 a.m. She was told the news by her daughter, Mrs. Isam Byrd, 77, of Wolfe county who has helped care for her mother lately. "She took the sad news fairly calm," a member of the family said.

J. M. GEVEDON

Bedfast since breaking her hip in a fall three years ago, Aunt Jeston nevertheless is in good health and mentally alert except her hearing and eyesight.

Monroe's son, Bert, talked with his grandmother on Wednesday morning. "She told me, all there is to do is put our trust in the Lord. Then she commenced crying."

Mr. Gevedon had been in failing health for many months and had been bedfast since August. He became decidedly worse Monday about noon. Death was attributed to pneumonia and complications.

Aunt Jeston was well aware of her son's condition. She had insisted that "I be kept informed all the time." Dr. H. B. Murray said when he visited her a few days ago he found her quite alert and she told him "not to keep anything from me."

Mr. Gevedon was born at Grassy Creek Jan. 31, 1871, a son of Raney C. and Jeston Testerman Gevedon who came to Morgan county from Virginia.

He had lived a full and useful life. He taught school 14 years, had served as magistrate two terms, was somewhat of a craftsman, a writer and a genealogist.

He was an expert blacksmith and carpenter and kept a blacksmith shop at his farm home where he did all kinds of blacksmithing. In his earlier life he had worked as a carpenter on the head of Kentucky river and later at Dayton and Middletown, Ohio. And he was foreman of a road crew for the contractors when US-460 was built through Morgan. In the early 30's he served as shop foreman in the NYA shop at West Liberty.

A writer of proficiency, he had long been a correspondent for The Courier and also had written a number of special articles on early history. A poet of some note, he had had poems published.

FLOOD STRANDED ASHLAND MEN TRAVEL VIA W. LIBERTY

Attys. Ira Nickell and Herbert L. Rose and a Mr. Mitchell from Ashland, after being stranded in Pikeville since Tuesday by floodwaters, made their way to West Liberty Thursday morning, and stopped here at 10:30 a.m. to eat before going on to Ashland. Main routes out of Pikeville and down Sandus have been closed since Tuesday. They got out by auto by traveling back roads, "running the ridges," so to speak. They said water rose at the rate of three feet an hour for a time and reached a depth of 2½ feet in the lobby of the Hatcher Hotel which is on comparatively high ground. Main streets were all flooded and nearly all places of business were inundated. The loss is incredible. Mr. Nickell told The Courier. He said he saw several houses floating down the river. Ashland National Guard unit, which left for Pikeville early Wednesday to assist homeless people, was not able to get to Pikeville until early Thursday, they said.

MAJOR DISASTER CAUSES URGENT NEED

The recent flood in Eastern Kentucky is perhaps the greatest disaster ever to hit this section. Thousands of people are without home, food or clothing and many have lost all that they have. The greatest immediate need is for blankets and clothing. Babies urgently need all types of clothing and warm clothing is also needed for persons of all ages.

We cannot fail to share with our neighbors in such a time of need. Every person in this community should want to help out in this crisis. If you do not have blankets or clothing you should contribute money which will be used to buy the things that are most needed.

Trucks and cars will be along all of the streets of West Liberty early Friday afternoon to gather these things. Watch for them and have your contribution ready. If you do not expect to be at home, you may bring your contribution to the office of Walter Franklin in the Court House or to Woodrow Stamper in the Bus Station. Trucks will be sent to any other part of the county to pick up items if requested.

A truck will be dispatched to the disaster area as soon as a load can be obtained.

SMALL FACTORIES PROPOSED IN ONE REPORT TO GROUP

Morgan county, with ample coal, timber, clay, limestone and a surplus of labor, might well be the site of small factories, the industrial committee of the Morgan County Rural Development Project reports.

The committee suggested using our fine clay and ample supplies of coal and hardwood and surplus of labor by inducing companies to locate small factories within the county.

Members of the committee were Stanley Blair and Curtis Elliott. Their full report to the Morgan County Rural Development committee follows—

Report of Industrial Committee (Stanley Blair and Curtis Elliott)

First, we would describe Morgan county as to its location, occupation, roads, schools, churches, etc.

Morgan county is located in East Central Kentucky. It is centrally located between Paintsville and Mt. Sterling. Highway U.S. 460 is a Federal Highway which goes through the county connecting U.S. 23 at Paintsville which is a direct route from Pikeville to Ashland. U.S. 460 also connects with U.S. 60 at Mt. Sterling which extends through our state from East to West. Morgan county is also traversed from all directions with state highways giving us quick access to neighboring towns of Morehead, Jackson, Louisa, Ashland, Grayson and others. The county of Morgan is also equally divided by the Ohio River at Newport, Ky. with the tributaries Licking River, Elk Fork, North Fork, Grassy Creek and Caney. We are blessed with some of the finest bottom land in Eastern Kentucky.

At least 90 percent of Morgan county's homes are either located on asphalt, gravel, Federal or State road.

About 75 to 80 percent of Morgan county's homes have electricity, which is provided by the R.E.A. Coop.

Morgan county has an ample supply of soft and hard wood, anthracite and bituminous coal, and one of the largest and best deposits of fire clay and limestone—all of which may be reached by highways.

Morgan county is primarily a farming county with its fine fertile soil.

Morgan county has gained the reputation as the Blue Grass County of the Mountains by its beautiful grass and fine grade of tobacco.

We have fine consolidated schools, with school buses linking the entire county with the schools.

We have an abundance of labor made up of a group of willing people who have the desire to push forward and be able to share with others the abundance that is in our county today.

The problem the United States Congress set forth in 1956 was to induce the lower income areas in the United States to bring their Morgan Man Is Named 'Man of Year' By Exchange Club In Jackson, Tenn.

DR. GILLIAM

Dr. Adolphus Gilliam, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Jackson, Tenn., and a native of Morgan county, was named Man of the Year in Jackson, Tenn. and was presented an award by the Jackson Exchange Club Jan. 15. It has been learned here.

Dr. Gilliam was born in a log cabin on the waters of Paint Creek in Eastern Morgan county about four miles from Crockett and attended the old Splitwood one-room school as a youth. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Frank Gilliam, pioneer citizens of the county.

In his young manhood he taught several rural schools in Morgan, among them White Oak Branch, Lenox and Caney. Later he attended Kentucky Wesleyan College, Winchester, and became a Methodist minister. He has pastored some of the larger churches in the Kentucky Conference, and was pastor of a Lexington church before going to Jackson, Tenn.

The following account of the award is from a front page story in the Jackson Sun of Jan. 16:

Tireless civic and spiritual leader Dr. Adolphus Gilliam, pastor of the First Methodist church, is Jackson's Man of the Year for 1956.

Dr. Gilliam was honored Tuesday night by the Jackson Exchange club and his community as attorney Pierce Winingham read his citation from the Book of Golden Deeds enumerating some of his many contributions to the betterment of this city during a comparatively short period of time.

The native Kentuckian who came to Jackson just two years ago has been active in the Lions Club, Masons, Shriners, Red Cross and Community Chest. Particularly outstanding has been his devotion to the establishment of a Mental Health Clinic for the Madison county. Dr. Gilliam served as chairman of the committee to promote the establishment of the recently opened clinic.

"Jackson realized the gain which was Kentucky's loss," Winingham read from the citation. "His enthusiastic devotion to all people and to their progress was made manifest at once."

"Not only did our First Methodist Church feel the impact of his dynamic personality and leadership, but our entire city as well."

Dr. Gilliam received degrees Kentucky Wesleyan, Transylvania College and Union College in preparation for his ministry which began in 1922. In his native Kentucky, he served on the State Welfare Board, the Probation and Parole Board, the Kentucky Children's Home Board, the Youth Authority Board and the Special Commission to Investigate Working Conditions in the Coal Mining Industry.

Receiving the honor, Dr. Gilliam said in an emotion-packed voice, "Thank you very kindly, because that is about all I can say."

As he spoke of the great lineage of Men of the Year that preceded him, he remarked that he could visit the 1955 Man of the Year, Judge Andrew Taylor, in the Governor's mansion at Nashville. This brought a thunderous applause from the crowd assembled in the New Southern Hotel Gold Room.

Youth Center Needs Chairs, Other Items

The Youth Center is in need of furnishings, is the report given this paper by the committee in charge of chaperoning and directing activities at the center.

Last year the old gym located on the high school campus, was converted into a youth center to provide recreation for all young people of the town and county. Skating, dancing, shuffleboard, and other forms of entertainment are carried on at the center.

As it is now, however, everyone has to stand. The committee in charge states that the center could put to good use chairs, end tables, and other items of furniture. A used living room suite would be ideal to make a lounge corner and make the center more attractive.

Another important need at the center is a refrigerator. This does not have to be new, just in good condition.

If anyone has furnishings or a refrigerator to donate to the center, contact one of the following committee: Ethel Phillips, Myrtle Stafford, Sally Scragg, Harold Barber.

AT FARM AND HOME WEEK

The following Morgan county women are attending Farm and Home Week at the University of Kentucky: Mrs. Major Gardner, Mrs. Josephine McGuire, Mrs. Bessie Halsey, Mrs. Kach Arnett, Mrs. Wonne Barker, Mrs. Volney McQuinn, Mrs. Lillian Oldfield, Mrs. Anna Clay Preston and Mrs. Evelyn Sinclair. A large group of women are planning to attend by day. Hazel Steele will attend the State 4-H Council meeting on Thursday.

WEST LIBERTY TO SEND TRUCK LOAD OF AID TO PIKE

Trucks or Cars Will Cover Town Friday Shortly After Noon

West Liberty remained serene beside the moderately swollen Licking River this week as death, suffering and destruction hit on three sides when the worst floods in half a century swept over towns and villages on the headwaters of the Kentucky River, the Cumberland, the Big Sandy and the Guyandotte.

Rains of near cloudburst proportion fell Monday night after days of moderate rain in southeastern Kentucky, southern Virginia and southern West Virginia, quickly raising streams in the tri-state area to destructive proportions.

All cities, towns and areas along the heads of the Kentucky, the Cumberland, the Levisa and Tug Forks of Big Sandy, the Guyandotte and others in southern Virginia were flooded.

At least 90 percent of Morgan county's homes are either located on asphalt, gravel, Federal or State road.

About 75 to 80 percent of Morgan county's homes have electricity, which is provided by the R.E.A. Coop.

BLAIR WHOLESALE IS ROBBED AGAIN

Thieves broke into the Blair Wholesale Grocery Company in West Liberty Monday night and stole cigarettes valued at approximately $1,250.

Entrance was made by prying open the front door. The robbery was committed about midnight.

Mrs. Bill Adkins, who lives across the street from the wholesale, said a Chevrolet car parked in front of her house about 15 minutes till 12, and in a few minutes drove into the ally beside the wholesale. She said three men were in the car. One of them used a bar of some kind to pry open the door. Then the three went inside. Mrs. Adkins' husband was not at home and she did not have access to a phone to call the police. However, she sent her 11-year-old boy down through the garden to a neighbor's home to tell them of the robbery being committed. But it was too late to catch the robbers as they already had loaded the cigarettes and left.

Officials of the firm said they could not determine the loss accurately, but that the robbers took only cigarettes that had tax stamps affixed. They estimated the loss at $1,200.

The wholesale was robbed in February and May of 1955.

Farmers Must Pay SS Tax On Wages Paid To Tenants

If you are a farm owner or operator who paid $100 or more cash wages to an agricultural employee in 1956 you are required to report all cash wages paid to the employee up to $4200 in the year and pay the social security tax before February 1, 1957. The term "agricultural employee" includes a cook, maid or other household worker in a farm home as well as farm "hands" according to Robert A. Flynn, Ashland District Manager of the Social Security Administration.

This report should be filed on Form 943. The form is mailed automatically to all farmers who reported farm wages paid in 1955, or who have already registered with the Director of Internal Revenue, Louisville, Kentucky. Form 943 must be obtained from the Director of Internal Revenue.

If you had one or more farm hands to whom you paid $100 or more in cash wages in 1956 and you have not registered with the Director of Internal Revenue, you should do so at once. The registration form SS-4a can be obtained from your social security office. Upon receipt of the Form SS-4a the Director of Internal Revenue will mail the yearly report form 943 to the farm employer.

The social security tax to be deducted from the covered farm hand's wages is 2 percent for 1956, to be matched by an equal amount from employer's funds. The total tax (employer and employee) should then be sent to the Director of Internal Revenue in January along with Form 943. Further information regarding social security and farm benefits may be obtained from the District Office of the Social Security Administration located at 340 14th Street, Ashland, Kentucky. The office is open from 9 AM to 5 PM (Monday thru Friday except national holidays). Information may also be obtained from the Field Representative of the Ashland District Office when he visits West Liberty each Wednesday at 11:30 AM (CST) at the Court House. This service is free of charge.

WATER

By Nora Easterling
A silent walk among the hills;
Down through a great divide
I lightly stepped upon a stone
Which seemed came from a slide
A carpet green of moss and fern
In decoration spread
Investigation on my mind
I knelt and bowed my head.
Underneath the stone a drip,
A splash, a drip, a drop
On and on the drip I heard
It came out of that rock.
I walked on down ten feet or more
And looked on every side
Drip, drip, drop, drop among the rock
They met to take a ride.
One tiny drop was far too small
To travel down the hill,
But joined together, all as one,
To me 'twas quite a thrill.
The farther down the hill they ran,
With more drops joining in
Until together they had made
A deep and flowing stream.
Our rock and rill on down the hill

Then on and on they flow
Collecting drops still farther on
The banks did overflow.
On bended knees, I found a stone
Where healing waters flow
On sacred ground where angels tread
The spirit comes and go,
I looked not up to see the drops
The water fed my soul
The stone investigated me
Bitter tears did o'er me roll.
And, from this stone, I heard a voice
Whispering, "Peace be still."
I'll fill your cup with inward joy
From my mansion on the hill
I have water and to spare
From springs of eternal love
In God's blessings from above.
But someday in that mansion fair
Beyond this vale of tears
No more alone on bended knees
Holy waters heal our fears
Christ is this stone, the rejected stone,
The builders cast aside
Chief cornerstone of the church of God
Healing water from his side.

explain . . . how your back aches after you hang out the wash . . . bend and straighten . . . bend and straighten . . . over and over and over again.

GROUND OBSERVER
CORPS IS FORMED

A Ground Observer Corps was organized in West Liberty Monday night at a meeting held in the First Church of God by Sgt. C. E. Petrovick. Twenty people attended the meeting and Rev. Glenn McAlister was named supervisor of the local group.

Theme of the organization was Air Defense of the United States and the importance of a Ground Observer Corps being active in every town or city.

A film, "The Dangerous Mile," vividly described the destruction and unbelievable tragedy that would follow a bombing attack from enemy planes if our land were left unprotected. Also the film pointed out that each Ground Observer station is an important link in a great chain of alert and conscientious citizens organized to detect by constant vigilance any sneak air attack.

Sgt. Petrovick of the Force in his introductory talk brought to the attention of the group that if only 100 enemy bombers got through out of 1,000, the 100 planes could drop enough bombs to cripple our nation's industry.

Present members of the West Liberty Ground Observer Corps are Rev. Glenn E. McAlister, supervisor; Wilgus O. Hammond, Jerry Brown, Kenneth Brown, John Brown, Mike Gevedon, Danny McKenzie, Jimmy Hurley, Denzil Stacy, Larry Stacy, Ronnie Bishop, Pauline Scott and Lanny Franklin.

Persons interested in becoming members and participating in the training and film sessions may call SH 3-4765 for information. At the next meeting several members will be awarded Ground Observer Corps wings for participation.

This is a voluntary citizens organization planned so as to guard and protect our country and our people.

VISITING TEACHER IS IMPORTANT TO SCHOOL PROGRAM

The general function of personnel working in Pupil Personnel Services is to serve individual pupils who need special understanding and help in problems of social adjustment so that they may derive the utmost benefit from their school experiences, to meet each pupil's needs and help him find opportunities to continue his educational program to the maximum of his capacity.

To accomplish this objective many individuals and agencies will be involved in providing services to pupils, to parents and to schools. These areas of service of the visiting teacher are listed as—

1. Work with pupils who present difficulties in their adjustment to school situations

2. Work with the parents in their homes and with teachers in classrooms on problems of the pupils and cause of non-attendance

3. Interpret the program to the school and community

4. Work with community agencies such as Department of Economic Security and Child Welfare and Health Departments to modify whatever conditions are necessary to meet problems of pupils

5. Participate in the in-service training programs at local and state levels

6. Work closely with the court to remove causes of non-attendance

7. To use the help of everybody in the community to make sure that all the children of all the people have a chance to go to school and to do well there.

As a visiting teacher I feel it my duty to help children understand why they should get all the education they can while they can, also to help parents understand why their children should attend school regularly.

We, working in the Pupil Personnel Service, want three things for the children of Morgan county:

1. Every well child to go to school every day that he can go safely and happily

2. Every crippled and sick and slow-learning child to get the kind of education that will help him most.

3. To help every child use all the mind he has so he will do his best at every job he sets out to do.

Next day the Liquid Transports Corp. of Ashland sent two 1,200-gallon tank trucks of water to Pikeville.

Pikeville now is patrolled by soldiers and no one will be permitted to enter without a pass. National Guard units from Olive Hill passed through West Liberty early Friday morning to take over control of flood-ravaged Prestonsburg and some of them were left to patrol Paintsville.

Three-fourths of Prestonsburg was flooded and most of the town's 3,000 residents were forced from their homes. Swirling water brought untold damages in the business section and a fire burned three buildings there Thursday, it is learned here.

FIRST CHURCH OF GOD

The Christian Youth Fellowship was in charge of services last Sunday morning. Helen Short spoke on "The Warfare of a Christian" and Jo Ann Tolson spoke concerning "The Faith That Is Necessary For Victory."

The youth choir with Linda McAlister and Garnett Quenell singing specials added to the spiritual atmosphere of the service. Lena Martin directed the choir and Caroline Sheets, assisted at the piano.

All church activities this week will center around the young people of the church and conclude with the morning service Feb. 3, with Pat Murphy and Jimmie Williams as the speakers. Ushers for these services are Larry Stacy, Richie Sheets, Ronnie Bishop and Kenneth Brown. Caroline Sheets, Barbara Brown and Garnett Quenell will render special musical numbers in the closing service.

Preparations for our revival with Rev. Darryl C. Williamson is in progress with cottage prayer meetings having been held in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. John Keller and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. McAlister as leaders, reported an attendance of 14 at the last meeting. The club is especially interesting because of the Christian program and the many handicraft projects carried by the children. Last Sunday this group did an especially fine job in presenting the purposes and goals to the church.

Saturday night is still regular time for choir practice. Rev. H. C. Howell is now directing and arranging the special music, and needless to say, he is appreciated. Our Sunday school contest is now in progress with the goal set at 150. Everybody is entitled and working hard. This Sunday is "Family Day" with every one trying to be in church with every member of their family present.

The Adult Bible study group that meets Sunday evening from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. continues to grow in interest and attendance.

The Christian Youth Fellowship meeting at 8:00 p.m. also.

The Sunday night services continue being evangelistic in nature with special singing of choir and individuals.

The Men's Brotherhood of the Church of God will meet Sunday night after service.

Visitors are always welcome to all of our services.

IN NAVY MANEUVER

CAMP COURTNEY, Okinawa—Pfc. Randolph Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Terry of Cannel City, Ky., participated in amphibious ship-to-shore maneuvers with the 3rd Marine Regiment, 3rd Marine Division, on the island of Okinawa, Jan. 25.

Part of the landing forces hit the beach using small landing craft, while other Leathernecks hopped over the beach defenses in helicopters to an inland site.

This vertical envelopment concept, developed first by the Marine Corps, provides a landing force with a powerful one-two punch for securing a beachhead.

sweet
(just look)

smooth
(ah, that velvety V8)

sassy
(just drive it)

This is the car that's fresher and friskier from its own special look to the way it takes to the road.

Those words—sweet, smooth and sassy—seem to fit this new Chevy right down to its tubeless tires. In the first place, it looks the part. It has a crisp, alert appearance—as trim and functional as an arrow. You can tell that the styling isn't just going along for the ride. It's right in keeping with Chevrolet's own special fresh and frisky ways.

And this is one car that looks as good close up as it does across the street. It's built the way you've come to expect a Chevrolet to be built.

But a Chevy isn't just something that's nice to look at. You'll see what we mean when you sample Chevrolet's cat-quick reflexes and solid way of going. Horsepower options, you know, range up to 245*. Come drive a Chevy!

*270-h.p. high-performance V8 engine available at extra cost.

A BIG MID-WINTER DRASTIC STOCK REDUCTION SALE OF ALL USED CARS AND TRUCKS

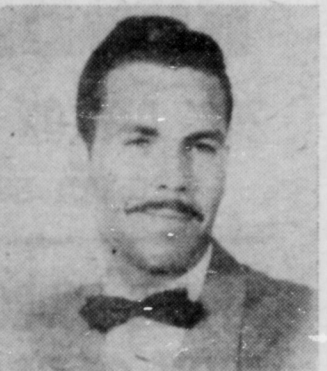

THREE SALESMEN ON THE JOB AT ALL TIMES

JOE

ALLEN

Will get underway at W.W.W. Chev., Ezel, Ky., beginning SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 2 and ending MARCH 2, 1957—29 sale days. As everybody knows, used cars and trucks are usually cheaper during February and March than any other 2-month period throughout the year. As everybody knows, used cars and trucks take quite an advance in price during the spring months. Therefore, to deal with these problems we are cutting our prices to the bottom dollar now to move our stock and move it now during this big sale. So why put off buying or trading any longer. Buy or trade now for yourself a better used car or truck and save yourself a lot of money and a lot of worries. Remember, when spring comes, prices will be higher and clean used cars and trucks will probably be scarce. Also always remember our stock is constantly changing. If the kind you are looking for is not listed here, let us know. We can probably trade for same. Listed below is our stock of used cars and trucks which we have for sale or trade now.

Broadcast Especially For Mothers Goes On Radio Over WMTC

Attention, All Housewives! Listen to the HEART TO HEART PROGRAM with Mrs. Ruth Stoltzfus

A program of inspiration for you in the midst of your everyday tasks

A new and different radio program for mothers and homemakers will be heard for the first time on radio station WMTC, Vance, Breathitt County, Ky., (730 on your dial) on January 26 at 10:30 Saturday morning.

This is the HEART TO HEART Program, a Christian radio broadcast, originating in Harrisonburg, Virginia, dedicated to the cause of building strong Christian homes. Mothers and homemakers find inspiration in their daily tasks as they tune in each week to this program especially for them.

Begun over one station by Mrs. Grant M. Stoltzfus in June 1950, the HEART TO HEART program is now in its seventh year and is currently aired over 25 stations in ten states and Puerto Rico.

Calling herself "Your Friend Ruth," Mrs. Stoltzfus, mother of five children, speaks in a conversational tone to thousands of mothers as they work in their homes. The main purpose of the program is to bring spiritual meaning to the everyday tasks of busy women. For, as Mrs. Stoltzfus says, "Man does not live by bread alone."

WMTC has been chosen as the outlet for the HEART TO HEART program in this area. 1-24-3t
